1 Purpose

This document provides guidance to Credit Union employees on the Identification Methods used to ascertain and/or verify the identity of individuals and the associated recordkeeping requirements.

Refer to the Identity Verification Procedures for further guidance.

2 Overview

The Credit Union is committed to complying with all requirements of the PCMLTFA and its Regulations.

The Credit Union will ensure that all members are appropriately identified and verified in accordance with the standards set forth by FINTRAC. This Guideline serves to mitigate risks associated with money laundering and terrorist financing.

The Credit Union permits the use of agency agreements with authorized reporting entities, such as Canadian credit unions, Canadian lawyers, or notaries registered in British Columbia, to verify identity while maintaining compliance with the PCMLTFA.

In addition to adhering to PCMLTFA, the Credit Union is committed to performing due diligence to ensure that the right individual is being authenticated and verified in all instances.

3 Roles and Responsibilities

Role	Responsibility
Chief Anti-Money Laundering Officer (CAMLO)	Responsible for overall compliance with the PCMLTFA and ensuring that the Credit Union's policies and procedures are up-to-date and effectively implemented.
Employees	Responsible for adhering to these Guidelines and performing member identification and verification procedures as outlined
Compliance Department	Responsible for monitoring compliance, providing training, and conducting periodic reviews of the identification verification process

4 Guidelines Exceptions

Exceptions to these Guidelines may only be granted by the Chief Anti Money Laundering Officer (CAMLO), or CAMLO Designate, and must be documented and justified based on specific circumstances.

5 Identification and Verification Requirements

All individuals must be identified and verified as an individual with authorization to receive information, access, or provide the instruction on a Membership or an Account.

The following Individuals must be identified in accordance with these guidelines:

- Members
- Membership applicants
- Authorized Signors or Authorized Users on an Organizational Membership or an Account
- Power of Attorney (POA)
- Committee
- Estate Executor/Administrator

For business memberships, the Credit Union is required to verify the identity of an entity by confirming its existence through referring to a record(s) that is authentic, valid, and current. This compliance obligation pertains to corporations and entities other than corporations.

The following businesses must be identified in accordance with these guidelines:

- Corporate Membership Guidelines
- Joint Venture Arrangement Guidelines
- Partnership Membership Guidelines
- Unincorporated Association Membership Guidelines
- Incorporated Society Membership Guidelines
- Sole Proprietorship Guidelines

While the PCMLTFA provides for limited situations where an agent or mandatary may verify the identity of an entity on the Credit Union's behalf, this approach is not permitted under current policy.

5.1 Triggering Events to Verify Identification

Employees must ascertain an individual's identification at membership opening, when conducting transactions and at interactions requiring identification under the PCMLTFA as outlined in the Triggering Events Guidelines.

5.2 Methods of Identification

The Identification Methods used to verify and/or ascertain identity are:

- Government-Issued Photo Identification Method
- Credit Bureau Method
- Dual Process Method
- Agency Agreement Method

Note: The Credit Union's preferred method of identification is the Government-Issued Photo Identification Method.

5.2.1 Government-Issued Photo Identification Method

The Government-Issued Photo Identification Method is the Credit Union's preferred method of identification. This method requires the Credit Union to collect physical government issued photo identification documents (e.g., passport, driver's license) from an individual in person.

The Government-Issued Photo Identification Method cannot be utilized if the identification document is not physically provided with the individual present. Copies of ID (paper or electronic) are not acceptable.

One tool that may be used within the Government-Issued Photo Identification Method is the Personal Information Consent Form – 3549. See Personal Information Consent Form section.

Examples of Acceptable ID documents can be found in the Acceptable Identification Documents section.

Review the Record Keeping requirements below to determine what information must be captured in the Banking System for this method:

Government-Issued Photo Identification method:
Requirements	• ID document must be authentic, valid, and current • The photograph and information on the ID must match the person presenting it • Issued by a federal, provincial or territorial government • ID document must contain ○ Individual's legal name and picture ○ Unique identifying number • Accompanied with the Individual physically present at the time of verification
Record Keeping	• Document type (e.g., Driver's Licence, Passport, etc.) • Document unique identifying number • Jurisdiction (province or state) and country of issue of the document • Document expiry date, if available (information must be recorded if it appears on the document) • Identification method used • Date of identification verification, and • Individual's legal name. • Complete Personal Information Consent Form – 3549 if applicable.

5.2.2 Credit Bureau Method

The Credit Union can verify identity through the Credit Bureau Method by referring to an individual's Canadian credit file. To proceed with this method the following requirements must be met and information captured in the Banking System.

For membership applications started in the Banking System rather than AOS, consent must be obtained by completing the Personal Information Consent Form – 3549. See Personal Information Consent Form section.

Credit Bureau method:
Requirements	• Credit Bureau must be obtained by the Credit Union at the time of identity verification, consent must be obtained from the Member before the credit bureau is obtained, refer to the Personal Membership Guidelines • Credit file information is valid and current • File has been in existence for at least three years • Legal name, address, and date of birth match the individual being identified and verified, and • Contain at minimum two trade lines - each from different reporting parties
Record Keeping	• The full Credit Bureau report must be archived in the ECM • Date Credit Bureau was obtained • Unique credit file reference number • Source of Credit Bureau (e.g., the credit agency) • Personal Information Consent Form - 3549

5.2.3 Dual Process Method

The Dual-Process Method is used on an exception basis to verify individuals who do not meet the requirements of the Government-Issued Photo Identification Method or the Credit Bureau Method. Use of the Dual-Process Method requires approval from the AML Compliance Department prior to being executed.

The Dual Process Method verifies the identity of an individual using information from two different reliable, independent sources.

For membership applications started in the Banking System rather than AOS, consent must be obtained by completing the Personal Information Consent Form – 3549. See Personal Information Consent Form section.

If an applicant fails the Dual-Process Identification Method:

- The Credit Union must use either the Government Issued Photo Identification or Credit Bureau methods of identification.
 - Extra due diligence is required when reviewing the credit bureau, as that itself may be underlying reason for Dual-process failure.

Dual Process method:
Requirements	- The individual must provide valid and current documents from two different reliable sources that contain any two of the following: - Full legal name and legal address - Full legal name and date of birth on a single reliable source, or - Full legal name and confirmation of ownership of any deposit account, prepaid payment product, credit card, or loan accounts with other financial entity Each document must contain a different set of matched information from the list above. For example, we cannot have 2 documents each confirming only the legal name and legal address.
Reliable Sources can include:	- Bank statement from Canadian Financial Institution - Credit card statement from Canadian card provider - Investment statement from Canadian broker/dealer/company - Property tax assessment notice or bill - ICBC registration - Bill from a recognized utility provider (e.g., Fortis, BC Hydro, Rogers, Telus, City of Abbotsford) - Government issued birth certificate - Government issued marriage certificate - CPP or OAS statement - CRA account statement or tax assessment
Record Keeping	- Documents must be archived in the ECM - Name of the two different reliable sources used to verify the individual - Document type (e.g. Bank statement from Canadian financial institution, ICBC registration, etc.) - Document unique identifying number Personal Information Consent Form – 3549

5.2.4 Agency Agreement Method

The Agency Agreement Method is used on an exception basis to verify individuals who do not meet the requirements of the Government-Issued Photo Identification Method or the Credit Bureau Method. Use of the Agency Agreement Method requires approval from the AML Compliance Department prior to being executed.

- A permanent exception allows the Manager, Estates, Trusts & Agency, to approve and put in place Agent Agreements for the purpose of administering Estates, Power of Attorneys (POA) and Trusts without approval from the AML Compliance Department, and in line with the AML requirements of the Agency Agreement Method.

Verifying identity using an agency agreement with a reporting entity, such as another Canadian credit union, a Canadian lawyer, or a notary registered in British Columbia, is completed in accordance with the PCMLTFA.

BC Notaries are acceptable under the Agency Agreement Method, as they are sanctioned by FINTRAC to provide identity verification under PCMLTFA and perform many of the same functions as lawyers.

Agency Agreement method:
Requirements	• A completed Agent or Mandatary Agreement. • The agreement must be formalized in writing, outlining the responsibilities of the Agent in verifying the identity of the individual. • The Agent must follow identification methods compliant with the PCMLTFA. • The Agent must provide written confirmation that identity verification was conducted in compliance with the PCMLTFA, including details of the method used. • Verification documents and methods must align with the standards outlined in this Guideline (e.g., Government-Issued Photo Identification, Dual Process Method).
Eligible Reporting Entities	• Other Canadian credit unions • Canadian lawyers • Notaries registered in British Columbia
Record Keeping	A copy of each completed Agency Agreement must be provided to the Compliance - AML department for record keeping purposes. The Agency Agreement Method requires all documents to be archived in the ECM. Additionally, a note must be added to the ECM recording the date, time, reason for agency agreement, and approver's name and position. The following information must be retained in the ECM: • Copy of the Agency Agreement, including the names of the parties involved and the scope of the agreement. • Written confirmation from the Agent specifying the method used for identity verification and the date it was conducted. The following information is to be captured in the Banking System: • Full legal name • Date of Identification verification

- Method of Identification
- Document type (e.g., Drivers Licence, Passport, etc.)
- Document unique identifying number

6 Alternate Identification Methods

The CAMLO or CAMLO Designate, may at their discretion on an exception basis, allow for a person to be identified with any FINTRAC approved verification method.

If an alternate identification method is used, the CAMLO or CAMLO Designate will provide direct instructions which must be recorded in the ECM along with any other material or document used in the process.

7 Verbal Authentication Process

The verbal authentication process is a method used to verify the identity of existing members through secure verbal interactions. This process is limited to existing members who have previously been identified using methods compliant with the PCMLTFA requirements in effect at the time of their identification.

When employees speak with a member over the phone and are therefore unable to see the member face-to-face or view their ID to confirm their identity, it is essential that proper verbal authentication takes place to successfully confirm the member's identity prior to discussing or conducting any private banking-related business with the member. Not all phone inquiries require the verbal authentication process to be followed. Employees must determine the reason for the member's call prior to authentication. If the member just has a general inquiry regarding publicly available information, verbal authentication is not needed.

Some examples of inquiries that would not require authentication include:

- General information regarding the Credit Union's products (e.g., mortgage rates, term deposit options, etc.)
- General financial guidance or advice (e.g., TFSA vs. RRSP, budgeting tips, etc.)
- General inquiries regarding online banking functionality (e.g., how to view an e-Statement online, how to send an e-Transfer or add a recipient, etc.)

7.1 Key Requirements

The verbal authentication process can only be used for existing members. For new members, identification must adhere to the standard processes outlined in the Identification Verification Requirements.

Employees must use pre-established authentication questions or verification methods as documented in the Identity Verification Procedures.

This process ensures compliance with PCMLTFA while maintaining a balance between operational efficiency and the need for due diligence in verifying the identity of members.

7.1.1 Personal Identification Code (PIC)

Members and other Authorized Signatories are strongly encouraged to provide a Personal Identification Code (PIC) to assist employees using the Verbal Authentication Method for future transactions.

A PIC is used to assist in identifying a member prior to performing a transaction. While typically used for phone interactions, it may also be used in-person. It can help to more quickly authenticate a member when they contact us, improving security and convenience.

A PIC can be setup in branch, or over the phone if the member is verbally authenticated, and employees are confident in the member's identity. Create a CRM note, including the following details:

- Method of instruction (e.g., phone, in branch, etc.)
- Date and time instructions were received
- Who provided the instructions
- Relevant transaction details

A PIC is a minimum five-character code that is a unique phrase or combination of words, numbers, or letters (no spaces or hyphens). It cannot be a readily discernable, easily guessed, or commonly known fact about the Individual.

The following are examples of what should NOT be used as a PIC:

- Date of birth
- SIN
- Address
- Phone number
- Mother's maiden name; or
- Immediate family members name

The PIC is not to be added to a business membership; instead, it is to be added to the person's profile (e.g., Authorized Signatory)

7.1.2 Record Keeping

Verbal Authentication process:

Record Keeping

Successful Verbal Authentication:

- Add a CRM note when a transaction is completed via phone for a member (e.g., Verified John, added PIC, paid bills).

	• Branch calls are not recorded like they are in the Member Connect. If the situation ever needed to be referenced back, it will be helpful to know if it was done in person or over the phone. • Note to include verified member over phone and what they completed for the member. • If a Personal ID Code (PIC) method was added, updated, removed, or declined by the individual add this to the CRM note. Failed Verbal Authentication: • A person restriction warning flag of Failed Verbal Authentication is to be created in the Banking System. ○ When the individual has been properly identified in branch this can be removed. • A CRM note is required to be added including date/time of conversation and communicate the reason for failed authentication (e.g., doubt, suspected fraud, you believe it was the member, but they answered questions incorrectly etc.)
CRM Note	When creating a CRM Note, include the following: • Method of instruction (e.g., phone, email, in branch) • Date and time instructions were received • Who provided the instructions • Relevant transaction details

If employees have doubts around the identity of the individual they are speaking to, even after a successful verification process, employees should ask for a second opinion or refer member to attend the branch in person. Employees must communicate the reasons for their doubts by placing a detailed note in the CRM.

7.1.3 Annual Review of Verbal Authentication Process

An annual review of the Verbal Authentication Process is to be conducted by the Director, Alternative Channels to evaluate any changes and make any updates as required.

Annual Review is to be sent via email to Enterprise Risk & Compliance Departments for approval and listed on the audit checklist.

8 Acceptable Identification Documents

For the Government-Issued Identification method the following must be true:

- Individuals must provide one piece of Primary ID. The Credit Union's preference is to obtain secondary ID to assist with fraud mitigation strategies.

- All IDs must be verified as authentic, valid, and current to be manually input in the Banking System.
- Copies (paper or electronic) of ID are not acceptable.

Primary ID	Secondary ID
• BC Driver's License (not interim)	• Credit Card (Visa, MasterCard, American Express)
• Canadian Passport	• Canadian Birth Certificate
• BC Services Card (not interim)	• Certificate of Canadian Citizenship
• BC Identification Card (not interim)	• Canadian Firearms License
• Canadian Permanent Residence Card	• Canadian Armed Forces Identification

• Other Province/Jurisdiction Driver's License (not interim)	• Driver's License (interim)
• Foreign Passport *	• BC Identification Card (interim)

* Foreign Passport – Employees must apply enhanced due diligence when accepting a foreign passport as identification, as it may be an indicator of potential tax reporting obligations and may require additional questions and/or documentation. There may also be limitations in verifying credit history. If there is any uncertainty, refer to your Manager for guidance.

8.1 Acceptable Identification Documents – Junior Members

Age of Minor	ID Requirements
Minor under 8:	A minor under the age of 8 cannot open a membership. See Personal Membership Guidelines for information on approving exceptions.

Age of Minor	ID Requirements
Age 12-18	Best efforts to obtain 1 piece of primary or secondary ID. Secondary ID can include bus pass, student ID, etc. If a minor between age 12 – 18 does not have a primary ID, birth certificate is required and will need to have identity ascertained through parent/guardian.

9 Record Keeping Requirements

Record keeping is essential for each method of verification to ensure compliance with the PCMLTFA as outlined in the following sections.

9.1 Personal Information Consent Form

Membership applications started in the Banking System must have consent obtained by completing the Personal Information Consent form. Refer to Personal Membership Guidelines for more information.

This form can be beneficial in a variety of situations :

Features	• Captures the required personal information and consent • Obtains a sample signature • Records the date of identification verification and explicit consent for record keeping purposes
Benefits	• Obtains personal information and consent from prospective members • Supports new business onboarding and/or an organization's change of signer process • Documents identity verification at the initial in-person meeting during lending interviews • Assists with an accurate record of relevant personal information

9.2 Manually Input Identification

Credit Union employees must manually input details of the physical ID documents used to verify identity into the Banking System under the member's profile. (e.g., ID number, type, place of issue, expiry date).

Refer to Identity Verification Procedures for further information.

9.2.1 Non-Members

For Non-Members, refer to Non-Member Transactions Guidelines for further information.

9.3 Expired Identification

Expired or outdated identification in the Banking System must be:

- Updated on an ongoing basis, and
- Updated prior to conducting any subsequent business.

9.4 Retention of Identification Records

All records pertaining to the method of identification and information of the identification documents must be retained for at least five years from the date the account is closed, or the last transaction is conducted.
