1 Purpose

This document provides employees with guidance on Listed Person or Entity Property Reporting to ensure that the Credit Union remains compliant with its requirements under the Proceeds of Crime Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Act (PCMLTFA) and associated regulations for:

- Sanctions Evasion Reporting
- Terrorist Property Reporting
- Sanctioned Property Reporting

This document applies to all employees who open, maintain, make changes to, conduct transactions on, or periodically review personal and organizational membership accounts.

2 Overview

The Credit Union must comply with its regulatory obligation to identify and report any terrorist and sanctioned property by submitting a Listed Person or Entity Property Report (LPEPR).

Listed Person or Entity Property Report (LPEPR)	These reports contribute to Canada's anti-money laundering, anti-terrorist financing, and countering sanctions evasion regime. LPEPRs provide valuable information to applicable regulatory bodies about property held by terrorists or listed persons or entities.
Suspicious Transaction Report (STR)	In addition, if the Credit Union identifies and reports activity being conducted to circumvent current sanctions regulations with a Suspicious Transaction Report (STR).

3 Listed Person or Entity Property

3.1 What is Considered Property

Property is anything owned or controlled by a person or entity, whether tangible or intangible. It includes real and personal property, as well as deeds and instruments that give a title or right to property, or to receive money or goods.

The following are examples of property:

- cash
- monetary instruments (example: cheques, bank drafts or money orders)
- casino products and tokens
- virtual currency

- accounts (example: personal or business accounts, Registered Retirement Savings Plans (RRSP), Tax-Free Savings Accounts (TFSA))
- prepaid payment products and prepaid payment product accounts
- securities (example: stocks, bonds or mutual funds)
- jewelry, precious metals or precious stones
- real estate, including an instrument that gives title or right to a property (example: a deed)
- insurance policies
- physical goods (example: equipment, vehicles or artwork)

3.2 What is a Listed Person or Entity

A listed person or entity is identified by sanctions regulations and government listings. Under these sanctions' regulations, dealings with certain listed persons or entities is restricted or prohibited.

Note: A person or entity for these purposes could include an individual, group, corporation, trust, partnership or fund, or an unincorporated association or organization.

A listed person or entity is defined as follows:

- a terrorist group under the Criminal Code
- a person or entity that is the subject of an order or regulation made under the United Nations Act
- a person or entity that is the subject of an order or regulation made under the Special Economic Measures Act
- a foreign state that is the subject of an order or regulation made under the Special Economic Measures Act or the United Nations Act
- a person who is the subject of an order or regulation made under section 4 of the Justice for Victims of Corrupt Foreign Officials Act (Sergei Magnitsky Law)

3.2.1 Definition of a Terrorist Group

A listed person or entity includes a terrorist group, which is as defined as:

- an entity that has as one of its purposes or activities facilitating or carrying out any terrorist activity
- a listed entity
- an association of such entities

Through the course of normal business activities, the Credit Union may come across information that leads an employee to determine that a member is associated with, or is part of, a terrorist group. This can occur when you come across:

- Negative news or media articles stating that a member has carried out or facilitated terrorist activity
- The member has been named on official, publicly available lists relating to terrorist activity

4 Sanctions Evasion

A listed person or entity may conduct certain activities to circumvent sanctions regulations.

If an employee identifies indicators of Sanctions Evasion an Unusual Activity Report must be submitted to the AML Compliance Department. Refer to the Unusual Activity Reporting Guidelines and Unusual Activity Reporting Procedures.

Some examples of sanctions evasion techniques include:

SANCTION EVASION TECHNIQUE	EXAMPLE
Use of intermediary jurisdictions	Sending funds to countries with known ties to sanctioned countries, or high-risk jurisdictions with weak money laundering and terrorist financing regimes.
Evasion of import and export controls	Providing falsified invoices or supporting documentation.
Use of opaque corporate structures	Use of shell companies to conceal ownership
Non-resident banking	Registration of business, or related businesses, in a high-risk jurisdiction.
Use of proxies and enablers	Transfer of ownership to nominee or close associate for the purpose of hiding ultimate beneficial ownership.
Use of virtual currencies and other alternative financial channels	Use of cryptocurrencies as a financial vehicle to conceal the source of funds until they are deposited into a financial account.

5 Listed Person or Entity Property Report (LPEPR)

A Listed Person or Entity Property Report (LPEPR) is submitted to FINTRAC when a terrorist group, sanctioned property, or a listed person or entity, is held or identified by the Credit Union.

If the Credit Union identifies a listed person or entity or terrorist group, or believe they are in possession of property held by a listed person or entity or terrorist group, the employee must immediately notify the AML Compliance Department to determine whether a LPEPR report is required to be submitted to FINTRAC. See the Notifying the AML Compliance Department section.

Note: If the notification is not submitted to the AML Compliance Department immediately upon identification, the Credit Union may be imposed fines.

5.1 Notifying the AML Compliance Department

Immediately upon identification of a listed person or entity, the employee must send a high-priority email to aml@beemcreditunion.ca with the following information:

- Subject Line: LPEPR Escalation – Action Immediately!
- The member's name and number, if applicable
- Detailed outline of how the listed person or entity was identified
- If property has been identified, details of that property and how the property is owned or controlled
- Any transaction details, whether completed or attempted, including but not limited to:
 - Account number
 - Date of transaction or request
 - Method of transaction (i.e. online, in person, etc.)
 - Conductor information
- The red flags or unusual activity leading the credit union to believe commission the following offences has occurred:
 - Terrorist activity financing offence
 - Sanctions evasion offence

The AML Compliance Department will review the notification and determine whether a LPEPR report will be required to be submitted.

6 Unusual Activity Reporting

In addition to notifying the AML Compliance Department of an LPEPR, Credit Union employees must also submit an Unusual Activity Report (UAR) to the AML Compliance Department if they suspect that a transaction has been completed or attempted by or on behalf of a listed person or listed entity or a terrorist property group.

After the LPEPR notification has been submitted:

- Complete an Unusual Activity Report in accordance with the applicable Unusual Activity Reporting Guidelines and Unusual Activity Reporting Procedures, and
- Submit it to the AML Compliance Team

7 Record Keeping

All LPEPR reports submitted must be retained by the Credit Union for 5 years from the day the report is sent.
